

To my sponsors:

It is with the greatest of pleasure that I have accepted your invitation to speak at your engagement. Never is the time that one of these speaking opportunities becomes mundane, for I always consider that they may be my one chance at speaking into the lives of some of the individuals who will be attending! Life is short, and sometimes full of surprises, and I always ask the Father, before one of these events, if He would use me to speak and impart wisdom and instruction, and key ideas, into the lives of these individuals that will in some way "rock their world"!

I believe that life is a journey! We have a short time here on the Earth to fulfill that journey. The more we know about how to handle the rigors of the trip, the better prepared we are at dealing with the surprises and pitfalls that we encounter along the way. I try to keep these things in mind when I mount the stage, and I tune my ear to the Voice that has guided me all of these years.

It is with great expectation that I write you now, knowing that I am about to stand before not just students, or business executives, or even local church members, but champions! These are the best of the best! And the only thing that will prove otherwise is when these individuals choose to quit, when life deals them with a challenge that they feel they cannot handle. For in that time, the whole world will see what they are made of, and if "character" has been developed enough in their lives to sustain them, and the drive them on to victory.

It is my job to instill in them, and deposit into their lives, the words that they need to ignite that fire of passion and courage, to drive them on to obtaining the goal, to finishing the course, with all of the excellence and all of the ability that God has already blessed them with. I am excited about coming! I fully expect to be blessed by you, and to be a blessing to you, when I come!

Looking forward to meeting you soon!

Sincerely,
